

Sensory Scientist I (Southampton) – THP - Advert

We have an excellent opportunity for someone to join as a Sensory Scientist I as part of the Strategic Science and Technology community based in Southampton. As a member of the Sensory Technical Consumer Interactions team the successful candidate will be responsible for setting up and running projects from a sensory science perspective defining early stage sensory insight for cross category projects, but with particular emphasis on Tobacco Heating Product (THP) projects. They will be involved in all stages of the evaluation from developing and applying various qualitative and quantitative sensory techniques, evaluating and interpreting the results and reporting the findings to various stakeholders to drive further understanding of perception. Through the application of innovative technical and scientific principles this role ensures that maximum benefit is gained from the application of early stage sensory consumer insight.

Skills and Experience

- Degree or equivalent in a science or related subject.
- Solid experience in Sensory evaluation, consumer or market research both qualitative and quantitative
- Preferable, but not essential; detailed knowledge and experience of Next Generation Products composition, function and operating principles.
- Planning and implementation skills.
- Ability to deliver against a portfolio of projects.
- Detailed knowledge and experience of product research.
- Excellent Interpersonal and communication skills; ability to influence key stakeholders
- Must be eligible to work in the UK

What we offer:

- Competitive salary and bonus scheme
- Great professional development opportunities
- State of the art laboratory facilities, excellent working environment and a great team to join
- Pension scheme
- Free Healthcare
- Subsidised restaurant
- Free On-site Parking
- On- site Gym

Working at BAT

British American Tobacco is all about freedom of choice — whether it's our people or our products. Combined with our entrepreneurial spirit, it's what's driven our phenomenal success. We started trading tobacco over a hundred years ago. Today, we're a multibillion dollar company with more than 200 brands in our portfolio. With robust positions in each of our regional markets, our future looks equally bright too.

There's no doubt our industry is controversial — we're the first to admit that. But rest assured, we take a responsible approach to our trade. In each of our markets, we observe every local law regarding tobacco (in many cases going further through our own voluntary code). Not only that, we treat our farmers fairly, invest in the environment and help to sustain local communities.

We also excel at developing our own people into leaders of the future. As a firm with a high-performance culture, we'll expect a lot from you. But we'll support you every step of the way to help you deliver. If you're passionate and ambitious, rapid career progression is a reality here. And because we're such a large firm (we employ more than 55,000 people worldwide), there are plenty of exciting opportunities for you to develop a truly extraordinary career.

Apply Online