

Part Time Sensory Panellist Brentford, London

Interested in getting involved in the development & optimisation of products (no experience required)?

We are currently recruiting for part-time Product Evaluators / Sensory Panellists to be based within a client facility in Brentford, London.

MMR Research Worldwide specialise in consumer and sensory market research in the food, drink and personal care sectors. We currently have two expert panels of Sensory Panellists based in Brentford and are now recruiting for our both our morning and afternoon panels.

Sensory Panellists work both individually and within a team to evaluate products within the oral care, skincare and over the counter medicine categories and therefore candidates should have good sensory acuity (this will be tested at a screening session), and have the ability to articulate themselves in front of others. No experience necessary as full training will be provided.

We are currently recruiting for our morning panel (9.30am – 12.30pm) and afternoon panel (1.30pm to 4:30pm) on Mondays to Thursdays at £9 per hour (salaried role). Whilst we can't always guarantee a place on your preferred panel, we will inform you at the earliest point of the process if this situation should occur.

This is a permanent role and therefore is not suitable for students. Because of the extent of training you will have to pay back training costs if you leave the panel in the first 3 months after joining.

Unfortunately, if you have any dietary restrictions (e.g. you are a vegetarian), skin allergies or sensitive skin, mouth piercings, food intolerances or allergies or have any medical conditions (or take medication that may result in dietary restrictions) this position will not be suitable as sensory panellists are required to test a varying range of products depending on projects.

If you are interested in applying, please apply here and we will email you an application form & sensory questionnaire to complete.

We look forward to hearing from you.
